THE NEWSLETTER OF THE HISTORIC WILMINGTON FOUNDATION

SPRING 2011

VOLUME 20 ISSUE 1

New Office

In February, Historic Wilmington Foundation relocated its headquarters to the Superintendent's Lodge in the Wilmington National Cemetery. The Cemetery dates back to 1867 and was recognized on the National Register of Historic Places in 1997. The two-story lodge was constructed in 1934 to house the superintendent. The new location is also surrounded by four National Register Districts-Carolina Heights, Carolina Place, Westbrook-Ardmore and the Mansion District. The Foundation looks forward to the New Year in a new, but historic location. Our contact information remains the same, but our mailing address has changed:

2011 Market Street, Wilmington, NC 28403
Please come and visit us in our new location!

Downtown Post Office Receives Carr Memorial Plaque

The 75-year-old US Post Office & Federal Building at 152 N. Front Street was awarded the James D. & Rosalie W. Carr Memorial Plaque in May. Each year, Historic Wilmington Foundation selects one historically significant building to receive the Carr Memorial Plaque. The historic Post Office building was constructed in 1936-1937, and provided employment during the Great Depression. This very special site is the first Federal Building in New Hanover County to receive a Historic Wilmington Foundation plaque. The Post Office's colorful history is augmented by the beautiful works of art commissioned by the US Government. The downtown US Post Office and Federal Building continues to serve our community for its 75th year and holds historic elements invaluable to understanding Wilmington as it is today.

Tar Heels Educates the Next Generation of Preservationists!

Since fall 2009, Historic Wilmington Foundation has collaborated with the New Hanover County Schools to bring more history, historic preservation, architecture and cultural awareness into the lives of third graders. The Tar Heels Go Walking program earned the Gertrudes Carraway Award of Merit from Preservation North Carolina for our outstanding commitment to promoting historic preservation. Over the past two years, HWF has led more than 100 public school tours and 7 tours for private schools; more than 2300 enthusiastic third graders took the Tar Heels tour last fall, and more than 4700 students total have participated.

If you would like to become a volunteer guide for Tar Heels Go Walking,

1 Jarman House
1910 Princess Street

John F. and Sallie Ennett Jarman built this Craftsman style house in 1911. A druggist, he owned and operated Jarman's Pharmacy. The current owners are Norm and Betsy Riviere.

2 Platt-Sutherland House 1710 Chestnut Street

This Craftsman style bungalow, built in 1923, was designed by architect W.J. Wilkins for Robert C. and Robbie Sutton Platt. He was a clothing merchant and clerk in the city auditor's office. In 1961, the house was purchased by William O. and Mary G. Sutherland. He was the chief clerk for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The current owners are Connie and Haskell Rhett, a descendant of the Sutherlands.

3 Simon House
203 S. 8th Street

Featured in this c. 1909 Neoclassical Revival style cottage are pretty ionic columns. By 1910 this house was the residence of George and Emma Simon. A tailor and merchant, he was born in Alsace-Lorraine and she was a native of Germany. The current owner is Greg Wessel.

4 Burns-Huggins House 224 N. 7th Street

This Greek Revival style dwelling was built for Owen Burns in 1853. At the time, the house was located in the country two blocks beyond the city limits. It was purchased in 1860 by grocer Luke B. Huggins and wife Phoebe Newbold Huggins. The house remained in their family over 130 years. The current owner is Suzanne Stanley.

5 Thomas C. Miller House 309 N. 6th Street

This Queen Ann style cottage was built in 1896 for African American Thomas C. Miller. He was a successful businessman as well as New Hanover County deputy sheriff during Reconstruction. The house was inherited by his son Thomas Miller, Jr., a railroad porter, and it remained in the family until 1947. The current owner is Linda Heath.

6 St. Mark's Episcopal Church 600 Grace Street

This Gothic Revival style Church was built in 1871-1875 for congregation organized in 1869. Designed by Emerson and Fehmer, Boston architects, and constructed by Alfred Howe, congregant and builder, it was the first Episcopal Church in North Carolina consecrated by Bishop Atkinson for African Americans.

7 Curtis-Foster House 110 N. 6th Street

Engineer George Curtis and his wife Melvina had this Italianate style house constructed just after the end of the Civil War (c. 1866). It was purchased in 1880 by Flavel Wright Foster, a Union Army veteran, county commissioner and city alderman who owned a planing mill where he made window sash and blinds. The current owner is Tim O Callaghan.

8 Louis T. Moore House
121 S. 5th Avenue

Built in 1910, this Shingle style house was the home of Louis T. and Florence Kidder Moore. While secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce in the 1920s and 1930s he was the city's biggest promoter. A local historian, he was Chairman of the New Hanover County Historical Commission and author of Stories Old & New of the Cape Fear Region. The current owner is Roxann Lansdowne.

9 Fanning House 206 Orange Street

Builders, J.C. and R.B. Wood constructed this Italianate style house for Phineas W.

Fanning in 1852. Both owner and builders were natives of Nantucket, MA. Fanning was a ship and sign painter as well as a Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina. The Wood brothers came to Wilmington to build St. James Church. The current owners are Dan and Lori Camacho. Enjoy free ice cream from Dairy Queen during the ribbon-cutting.

10 Weedon House
119 Church Street

Architect, Charles McMillen, designed this Queen Anne style house in 1899 for Lindsay and Nellie Weedon. He owned a nearby factory that manufactured shuttle blocks for the textile industry. The house was purchased in 1903 by Edith and James Hopkins, a butcher at the City Market House. The current owners are Peter Kamarainen and Carol Chappell.

Historic Wilmington Foundation's 2011 Preservation Awards

Each year as part of National Preservation Month, the Historic Wilmington Foundation recognizes outstanding preservation projects by presenting Preservation Awards to individuals whose contributions demonstrate outstanding excellence in historic preservation, rehabilitation, restoration and compatible new infill construction. By identifying these projects, the Foundation strives to educate the community on the importance of preservation and the role historic structures play in building community identity.

The Foundation is also accepting nominations for David Brinkley Preservationist of the Year and for the Thomas H. Wright Lifetime Achievement in Preservation Award. This year's Preservation Awards Ceremony will be held on Thursday, May 19, 2011 from 6:30 to 8:00 pm at the New Hanover County Court House in historic downtown Wilmington. The event is co-hosted by New Hanover County, Wilmington Downtown and the Residents of Old Wilmington.

What type of project will qualify for an award?

- Categories for awards are restoration, rehabilitation, adaptive reuse, and appropriate new construction in a historic district. Eligible projects must be complete by April 2011.
 - Restoration is process of accurately depicting the form, features, and character of a property as it appeared at a particular period of time.
 - Rehabilitation is making a compatible use for a property through repair, alterations, and additions while preserving those portions or features which convey its historical, cultural, or architectural values.
 - Adaptive reuse is a process that adapts buildings for new uses while retaining their historic features.
 - Appropriate new construction is any new addition or structure in an historic area that complement the area and support its overall character; must be a contemporary design with sensitivity to adjacent structures.
- Historic structures must be at least 50 years of age and in the lower Cape Fear region.
- Awards of Merit are given to projects, groups and individuals that promote and advance an understanding of historic preservation. Professional Merit Awards are also presented for workers in the preservation field.
- The David Brinkley Preservationist of the Year is awarded for extraordinary preservation work of large scale, scope and effect.
- The Thomas H. Wright Lifetime Achievement award is presented to a dedicated preservationist who has spent a career saving the region's rich architectural heritage and making a difference in the area's quality of life.

What are the nomination procedures and requirements?

- Self-nominations are accepted.
- All materials submitted will become the property of the Historic Wilmington Foundation unless the nominator specifically requests that they be returned and provides a self-addressed package with adequate postage for this purpose.
- The Historic Wilmington Foundation is not responsible for any of the material submitted and reserves the right to use all materials for future publicity.
- Each nomination must include a completed nomination form, brief history of the site, description of the project, and (preferably digital) before and after photographs. Incomplete forms may not be considered for nomination.

Who decides which Preservation Projects will receive the Foundation's Awards?

The Preservation Awards Committee, made up of HWF members, local architects and preservation professionals reviews all nominations received. The following criteria are used by the committee in selecting the Preservation Awards recipients:

- Historical Interest or Architectural Significance
- Quality of Workmanship
- Sensitivity to Architectural Integrity
- Appropriateness of Adaptation to Contemporary Use
- Helps advance the cause of historic preservation
